POSITION DESCRIPTION

The Department of Asian Languages and Cultures (ALC) at the University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA) invites applications for one or more full-time or part-time lecturer position(s) in Japanese language starting Fall 2022. Percentage and duration of employment will vary according to number of courses taught.

Positions may be part-time, limited duration appointments not to exceed one year without a further competitive search. Screening of applications will take place as positions become available and continue until positions are filled.

Qualified candidates must have native or near-native proficiency in Japanese and English. Candidates should have an M.A. or Ph.D. degree in applied linguistics, Japanese language/linguistics, education, language pedagogy, and/or other language education-related areas. Three years or more of experience in teaching all levels of Japanese language courses at the college level is desirable. Experience in instructional technologies and development of online (hybrid) materials is highly desirable.

Complete application must include: 1) cover letter; 2) teaching statement; 3) curriculum vitae; 4) sample sets of student evaluations, 5) names of three references, 6) sample lessons for an intermediate class and for an advanced class; 7) Statement on Contributions to Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion; and 8) video demonstration of recent classroom teaching (link must be included in CV).

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, or protected veteran status.
